

Court Asked To Rule On Ann Street Traffic Problem

Tarr Prepares Complaint Against Harris

THE BATTLE OF Ann Street entered a new phase yesterday when the Monroe County Court was asked to enjoin Stroudsburg's Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris from diverting commercial motor vehicles off Routes 611 and 209 in the borough.

A complaint in equity against the mayor was prepared by counsel for William Tarr of 1032 Chipperfield Terrace, who operates a trucking business with offices at 419 King St., East Stroudsburg.

Tarr, in the complaint, contends that "immediate and irreparable loss and damage" will be suffered by him unless Harris is restrained from diverting commercial traffic over Ann St.

The petition further urges that the chief Burgess be enjoined from placing police officers at Main and Ninth Sts., and at Seventh and Ann Sts., for the purpose of "causing into effect this defendant's unlawful declaration and actions."

Contacted last night about the complaint, Harris said he had no comment to make on the matter. Earlier, the borough council requested Harris to discontinue diverting heavy trucks over Ann St., and some 100 Ann St. residents complained that the commercial traffic is causing damage to their properties and making it difficult for them to sleep.

Tarr's complaint notes that his trucks go over Main St., from Seventh to Ninth Sts., while moving over Routes 611 and 209. The complaint observes that last Feb. 1, the defendant closed Main St., between Seventh and Ninth Sts., and Seventh between Main and Ann Sts., to all vehicular traffic except passenger cars.

All other traffic was diverted onto Ann St., between Seventh and Ninth Sts., and Ninth St., between Main and Ann, and a policeman was placed at the intersection of Seventh and Ann Sts. and at Main and Ninth Sts. to prevent the movement of other than passenger vehicles over the restricted areas, the complaint continues.

The plaintiff contends that the chief Burgess took this action "without consulting the police committee and without obtaining the assent of the said committee, or any of the members thereof."

The complaint further argues that no traffic emergency exists on Main St., between Seventh and Ninth or on Seventh between Main and Ann.

"In fact," he adds, "there is less traffic on the aforesaid streets at this time of year than at any other time."

Contention

The complaint contends the action was taken without warrant or authority under the law and borough ordinance. Moreover, it continues, it was without order of the State Highway Department.

Tarr states that declaration of the existence of an emergency and the resultant diversion of traffic affects the operation of his trucking business in the following ways:

1 — Trucks are compelled to travel upon a route which has not been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

2 — Trucks are compelled to move upon a route, which due to the construction of portions of Ann and Ninth Sts., does not have a proper base.

3 — Trucks also are compelled to move upon streets which are narrow and inadequate. The turns necessary to enter and leave these streets must be wide when made by commercial vehicles. This fact

Stevenson Has Support Of Delgate Power

PHILADELPHIA, May 2 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson had the support today of 60 per cent of Pennsylvania's delegates to the Democratic national convention an Associated Press poll showed.

With the Keystone State allotted 148 delegates, each with one half vote, Stevenson was the choice of 89 for 44½ votes.

Rival

His closest rival, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, had 9 delegates on his side, for 4½ votes. Gov. Averell Harriman of New York had 1½ votes and former President Truman and U. S. Rep. Francis Walter of Pennsylvania each had ½ vote.

Chamber Refuses Endorsement

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Despite a White House appeal, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce refused to give its endorsement at this time to American adherence to the Organization for Trade Cooperation.

The Chamber's annual convention decided instead to hold a national referendum among its members on the issue.

By a vote of 227-163, official delegates to the convention overrode a recommendation of their Policy Committee. It asked immediate approval of President Eisenhower's proposal for United States entry into the 35-nation tariff body.

Stroudsburg Council Reaffirms Earlier Water Company Decision

Borough Council Votes To Abate Taxes On Flood-Damaged Property

BOROUGH taxes on flood-damaged Stroudsburg properties will be abated for 1955, the borough council voted last night.

At the same time, the council agreed to hold a special meeting May 16 to review the budget for this year.

In granting tax abatements for last year, a bill introduced in the Legislature by Rep. Van D. Yetter, Jr. (D-Monroe), which authorizes such relief because of flood damage amounting to at least 10 percent of the valuation. Earlier, the county commissioners granted such abatements.

Borough Secretary Harold Snyder informed the council it would mean a loss to the borough of some $13,000 if the maximum refund was granted on every property affected.

Moreover, Snyder pointed out, reassessment of flood-damaged property has resulted in a $70,000 decrease in assessed valuation in the borough. This will mean a loss of $1,040 in revenue for this year.

Combined, the maximum abatements and the decrease valuation would mean $14,000 less income for the borough this year.

However, council agreed that the abatement should be made, although the borough is "budgeted very closely" this year.

There was a brief clash between Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris and Councilman Edward Doran. Doran asked for an accounting of money paid to the mayor in fines. After a lively exchange, it was indicated that the borough owes Harris about $101.50.

Councilman Daniel G. Warner indicated he is preparing to introduce a series of proposed pay increases for patrolmen at the special May 16 budget meeting.

In other action council: Accepted the resignation of Jack D. Haas as a borough meter attendant, and that of Russell E. Williams as borough Civil Defense director. Burgess Harris recommended the appointment of Clarence Seip as Williams successor.

Awarded a contract for 10,000 pounds of liquid chlorine to B. K. Williams Co., East Stroudsburg, and a contract for 10,000 gallons of fuel oil to the Bachman Oil Co., Stroudsburg.

Accepted the offer Lewis W. Scheller, Jr., to purchase a tract on Brown St. for $1,050.

Granted a request from A. B. Wyckoff for a permanent permit for the Canopy over the sidewalk in front of the store.

Tabled a request from LaBarrs Rhododendron Nursery for making West Bryant Street a one side parking street.

Approved a request from Stroudsburg Merchants Association to eliminate enforcement of parking regulations on Tobyhanna Days — May 11 & 12.

Tabled action on a letter from Pennsylvania Department of Commerce calling attention to the recent passage of legislation making available $5,000,000 in State grants to be used for development in Pennsylvania Communities.

New Evidence Stacked Against Commission

EASTON, May 2 (AP)—Joseph L. Donnelly, deputy attorney general of Pennsylvania, today presented what he termed fresh evidence that the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission spent public money in lavish fashion.

Appearing at the resumed hearings of a legislative committee investigating the affairs of the commission, Donnelly placed in the record bills, vouchers, invoices and other papers relating to a party and a meeting late last summer in the Shelbourne Hotel in Atlantic City.

Donnelly produced room service invoices which he said were signed by Alexander R. Miller, former chairman of the commission, and covering items such as expensive food, liquor, flowers, the services of a pianist and those of an instrumental trio, and the hiring of a bartender.

$492 Dinner

Donnelly said one bill was for a $492 dinner served in the penthouse, with a $100 tip besides.

He turned over to the investigators from Harrisburg a Hotel Shelbourne bill for $3,257.48, submitted after a commission meeting last Sept. 30. He added that the expense accounts of Miller, John Elder, former treasurer, and Robert A. Haney, former comptroller, raised the total to $4,030.46.

Today's proceedings were given over almost entirely to the gathering at the Shelbourne. The investigating committee called several persons who were guests at the Atlantic City party and heard much of their testimony in the closed part of the hearing.

Summing up testimony given in private, which complemented that in the public part of the hearing, Sen. Yosko, Northampton County Democrat, said all the witnesses told the committee Miller had invited them to the party and that they assumed that he, himself, would foot the bill, and that it would not be paid out of public funds.

Conflicting Hours Illegal

HARRISBURG, May 2 (AP)—The state Justice Department said today it is illegal for communities to adopt closing hours for retail liquor outlets if they conflict with state fixed times.

Horace Segelbaum, deputy attorney general assigned to the liquor control board, said "a community can't change the hours fixed by state statute."

Adoption

The Liquor Control Board recently ruled that bars and taverns must operate on Eastern Standard Time which in effect allows them to stay open until 3 a. m. week days and 1 a. m. on Sundays in communities having daylight time.

Debate Opens On Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—The House began debate on a new Democratic farm bill today, while behind the scenes party leaders worked closer to a compromise deemed acceptable to President Eisenhower.

Rep. Halleck of Indiana, Republican House whip, reported "good progress" was being made in revising the soil bank section of the bill.

Main Aims

Before leaving Washington, Dulles said one of the main aims of the session is to plan the re-

Lawmakers Ride Over Mayor's Veto

STROUDSBURG BOROUGH COUNCIL last night reaffirmed its earlier resolution approving the proposed action of the Municipal Authority to acquire the facilities of the Monroe County Water Supply Co. for $663,560.

This action was taken when council overrode the veto of Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris, who indicated he disapproved of the purchase for three reasons:

1. It's against the public interest.

2. He refused "to be a party in the squandering of public funds for a worthless piece of paper."

3. It's a disservice to the taxpayers.

However, Councilman Edward Doran quickly moved that the resolution again be adopted. It was subsequently approved by a unanimous roll call vote.

Meeting in joint session with the council, the Municipal Authority voted last night to offer $760,000 in bonds at a public sale. Bids will be opened May 16.

This action was taken after the authority rejected a negotiated bid for the bonds from Butcher & Sherrard of Philadelphia, financial advisers to the authority. Had that bid been accepted, the net interest cost would have been 3.8746 per cent.

Oscar M. Hansen of Morgan, Lewis & Bockius of Philadelphia, was present last night and recommended that the negotiated offer be turned down.

Although acquisition of the utility will cost $663,560, it was pointed out earlier that $760,000 is needed to finance the project.

Moreover, Hansen informed borough officials last night that they should consider a supplemental supply system. He indicated that this might cost some $230,000, if a filtration plant were used.

The authority also voted to award the Security Bank Note Co. the contract to print the bonds for $429.

Burgess Harris received support last night in his objection to the acquisition of the water system at the proposed cost.

Forrest R. Smith, former president of the Pocono Mountains Real Estate Board, argued that the borough would be paying "50 percent too much."

Smith said he was appearing as a businessman. However, he noted that he served for several years as Burgess of Delaware Water Gap.

While serving as Burgess there, Smith said, that borough purchased a water system at an initial cost of $21,000. Since there were 173 subscribers, this figured out to $121 per customer, he added.

Smith said cost of acquiring the Stroudsburg system would run $183 per subscriber, figuring on the basis of an estimated 3,500 customers in this borough and Stroud Township.

Based on the $760,000 bond issue, Smith said later, this would amount to $217 per subscriber.

Council President Edward R. Lawson questioned Smith for his reasons for presenting his own opinion "in the face of a report by a qualified engineering firm."

"I think you haven't investigated the facts," Smith replied. "I think you're making a big mistake."

However, consultants have contended repeatedly that the income will exceed the cost of retiring the bonds.

France Asks U. S. To Assist In Forming Agency

PARIS, May 2 (AP)—France today urged the United States to join in organizing a new international agency to distribute economic aid to the world's needy.

French officials said Foreign Minister Christian Pineau laid the plan before U. S. Secretary of State Dulles in a two-hour conference at the foreign office.

The two ministers met shortly after Dulles flew into Paris for what Western diplomats say may be a momentous session of the Ministerial Council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Main Aims
Before leaving Washington, Dulles said one of the main aims of the session is to plan the reshaping of NATO "into something more than a military alliance."

The secretary apparently favors widening NATO into the political and economic fields to meet the challenge of Russia's worldwide trade-and-aid offensive.

A White House statement said Dulles had conferred with President Eisenhower on "the political development of the Atlantic community." The use of the term "Atlantic community" was considered significant. This would include such non-NATO members as Spain, Sweden and Switzerland.

Informants said the French plan calls for a new aid agency set up outside NATO and "within the framework of the United Nations or some similar world organization."

Presumably Russia would be free to join.

The agency would aim not only at bolstering underdeveloped countries of Asia, Africa and the Middle East, but also such depressed European areas as southern Italy.

Pineau told Dulles the agency must be kept outside of NATO to avoid having it looked on as an instrument of the cold war.

The minister argued this would be the best way of rallying the uncommitted nations of the world to the support of Western ideas.

The informants declined to give Dulles' reaction to the plan. An American spokesman also refused comment.

Inquest Into Dingmans Ferry Shooting Continues Today

MILFORD—A coroner's inquest into the death of Edward W. Ebele, 49, of Dingmans Ferry, allegedly shot to death Monday by 13-year-old James Van Why, Bushkill, resumes today.

Pike County District Attorney Clifford Cloud said last night that arraignment of the youth on a general charge of murder will probably be postponed "at least until after the inquest is finished."

Cloud said he will hold up the arraignment until the court has appointed an attorney for the boy. When the case is presented to the Grand Jury later this month, and when it goes to trial, the district attorney will seek an indictment on a first degree murder charge.

"Slightly Improved"
At St. Francis Hospital in Port Jervis, N. Y., last night, the condition of Ebele's wife, Margaret, 45, was again reported "slightly improved." Cloud had previously indicated that whether he asks the death penalty in prosecuting the case may depend largely on the recovery of the dead man's wife.

Arrangements were completed yesterday for burial of Ebele, a Dingmans Ferry cottage resort colony owner. His body was removed yesterday to Montclair, N. J., where services will be held Saturday.

Van Why, who was a student at East Stroudsburg Junior High School, "readily admits" the shooting, Cloud said previously, "and shows no remorse whatever."

The coroner's jury met on Tuesday, but did little other than listen to witnesses identify the body of the dead man as Ebele. A stenographic statement was taken from the boy in Stroudsburg Tuesday afternoon and signed by him.

Question
Tompkins also questioned "by what authority" the committee was conducting a meeting today in Easton since all three House members of the committee and a fourth member, Atty. Gen. Horbert B. Cohen, were in Harrisburg.

Tompkins attempted to amend the bill, submitted by the three committee members who belong to the House, by cutting the appropriation to $12,000. His proposed amendment was defeated, 75-52 with Republicans favoring the reduction and Democrats opposing it.

Rep. Smith, GOP floor leader, closed the debate by suggesting a delay in the vote.

Senate Approves School Measure
HARRISBURG, May 2 (AP)—The Senate today unanimously approved and sent to the House a bill that would permit county school boards in counties of 80,000 or more population to increase their membership from five to seven.

Representatives Refuse
HARRISBURG, May 2 (AP)—The House today refused to authorize some 2,700 political subdivisions to increase by 50 per cent the yield of taxes imposed under Pennsylvania's local tax law.

Jackson Twp. Pupils May Attend Pocono School Next Year

Decision To Be Reached Tonight

SWIFTWATER — Seventh and eighth grade students from Jackson township will attend school at Pocono next year if a proposal offered last night at a meeting here wins approval of the Jackson board.

At a meeting of the interim steering committee for the Pocono Mountains Jointure, Dr. Edward T. Horn Jr., president of the Pocono board and that board's delegate to the committee made the proposal.

Dr. Horn's suggestion was made in an effort to find immediate relief for overcrowding at the Reeder school. The steering committee gave its approval to the move subject to the approval of Jackson board.

The Jackson township board will meet tonight. Delegates from that township at last night's meeting indicated that the board probably would favor the suggestion.

Permission

To allow room for the influx of new seventh and eighth graders at their own school, Pocono board members asked for and got approval from the steering committee to begin making needed preparations.

Involved in these preparations will be the partitioning of the library at the Pocono school so that an added classroom may be set in operation. An additional two teachers will also be needed.

Steering committee members also voted approval to a motion to go ahead and advertise for general supplies and janitors' supplies for the coming year. C. Willis Dunlap, named tentatively to be supervising principal of the new jointure, was asked by Harry J. Drennan, temporary chairman of the committee to prepare a list of supplies needed for presentation to committee members at the next meeting, May 16 at Barrett.

Existing and new bus contracts are to be submitted to the transportation committee for approval. The presidents and secretaries of each board are to meet as a committee to study new teachers contracts. William March will be the chairman.

Miss Mary Ann Williams, Scranton, will be crowned Queen of the May and Miss Pamela N. Rhodes, Roslyn Heights, N. Y., will act as Queen who comes to the Wilson May Day once every four years from sixteenth century England.

The day's activities will include the coronation and pageant staged on the banks of the Conococheague in the natural amphitheatre, a lawn fete, and the court ball.

Roth, Hornbrook, Whitman Play Major Roles In Production Of 'Brigadoon' At College

THREE OF the major parts of any musical production are being filled in "Brigadoon" by Karen Kemple Roth, Wallace Hornbrook and Lester Whitman.

Mrs. Roth is in charge of choreography for the production which will be seen Friday and Saturday nights at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College auditorium. She is a well known dancer and singer who has worked with such professional "greats" as Pat Rooney, Jack Whiting, Paul Draper, Eleanor Powell and Bill Robinson.

Hornbrook has been accompanist for the Community Chorus, whose members are responsible for "Brigadoon", the past two years. He has worked with Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians and plays each Summer at the Waring musical workshop in Delaware Water Gap. He is at present the minister of music at East Stroudsburg Methodist Church and director of the Melodettes, the chorus of the Progressive Woman's Club of the West End.

Whitman will play the part of Angus MacGuffie, a merchant. This is one of the several key supporting roles in the play — always a basic part of the success of any production. Whitman is a member of the Shawnee Singers; has been with Community Chorus three years; worked with the Pocono Male Chorus 20 years and has been a soloist at Grace Lutheran Church. He is the oldest employee of Line Material Company, in terms of length of service.

Fire Destroys Building In Pen Argyl

PEN ARGYL — A grass fire that got out of control was blamed for the destruction of a one-story frame building used for storage purposes Tuesday afternoon.

The building, owned by Abe Gum, was located on Pen Argyl St., near the R & R toy factory. The fire was discovered by employees of the plant who were approaching the building with a truckload of toy stuffing.

Headway

The blaze had gained such a headway that the building, together with contents, burned before Pen Argyl Fire Co. could bring it under control. The firemen were on duty for more than 90 minutes.

Stored in the building were ladders and paint materials owned by William Savercool, who estimated his loss at $450. Toy stuffing belonging to the R & R concern also was stored there. It burned with a loss of $200.

Highway Official Confirms Suspicion That Area Projects Will Be Delayed

The deputy state secretary of highways appeared here this week to review the road and bridge building program the department has projected for this section of Pennsylvania.

What Gen. George J. Richards told the Pocono Mountains Motor Club added little to what already had been announced by the district highway office, although his address did tend to put the entire state and local road picture into sharper focus.

Added to his recital of road and bridge projects now under way or in the planning stage was his disclosure that completion of several important jobs will be delayed beyond the target dates the department had set in conferences with local representatives in January.

The fact that virtually no final rehabilitation of flood-battered highways and bridges has been accomplished to date has been a bitter pill to swallow for those who held high hopes that much restoration work would be out of the way before the vacation travel season begins in earnest.

Gen. Richards pointed out that shortages of qualified designing engineers and of structural steel are holding up construction of bridges throughout the state.

By allowing contractors to bid on four alternate types of construction the state hopes to speed work on the replacing of three washed-out bridges at Bartonsville. Even so, the bids will not be received until June 8 and it will be another month or so before actual work starts. That means the bridges cannot be finished this summer regardless of whether the necessary steel can be obtained.

In outlining a $17,000,000 road-bridge program for the Poconos, Gen. Richards emphasized Pennsylvania's need for more funds to keep its own road system up to date and at the same time participate in the federal-state highway program.

He estimated that the one-cent-a-gallon state tax levied on gasoline sales beginning last Fall to finance restoration of flood-damaged highways and bridges will bring a return of $14,000,000 by June 1 and more than $30,000,000 by June 1, 1957.

However, the cost of replacing destroyed bridges and roads in this section—hardest hit during the flood—will be paid from the special tax fund, which will be above the amount normally collected through gasoline taxes and license fees and earmarked exclusively for highway use.

Gen. Richards discussed the two federal highway bills now before Congress and explained in detail how the state must supply several millions of dollars in matching funds to qualify under the huge federal aid program.

Both Gen. Richards and John M. Crandall, chairman of the motor club's highway committee, said the Pocono region is in the midst of an important segment of the federal interstate highway program, mentioning specifically the Northeastern Turnpike Extension and Routes 611, 22 and 6 as parts of the proposed network.

Crandall also revealed the proposed Keystone Shortway, between Stroudsburg and Sharon, may become part of the interstate program and thus would be a freeway rather than a toll road. Whether this would hasten construction of the Shortway is a matter for speculation, but it could mean a greater volume of tourist trade for the Poconos than would be likely with a toll highway.

Traffic Safety Conference Considers Means To Reduce Toll Of Highway Deaths

President Eisenhower's official representative, Howard Pyle, spoke at the traffic safety conference in Atlantic City yesterday and appealed to all Americans to keep the federal government from getting into the job of policing the nation's streets and highways.

The previous day Connecticut's governor, Abraham Ribicoff, declared motorists will not slow down to save their lives, but "they will slow down to save their licenses."

And another speaker voiced concern over "the Russian roulette we are playing on our streets and highways."

More than a thousand citizen leaders and public officials are attending the conference. They are examining the consistently deteriorating traffic record of this year, with special attention to March when the death toll was the highest in history.

It seems that when Ned H. Dearborn of the National Safety Council calls the mounting rate of fatalities "a traffic accident emergency" he is guilty of understatement.

We have had and continue to have traffic accident emergencies every day and every month of every year, and while we wring our hands and bewail the sorry state of the nation insofar as its lethal road record is concerned, we all continue to contribute to this disgraceful situation.

Maybe General Motors' President Harlow Curtice, who is chairman of the Atlantic City meeting, can inspire his fellow conferees to do something about the frightful killings of our highways.

And perhaps Chairman Curtice and all the other fellow motormakers from Detroit could contribute mightily by putting de-emphasis on the high power of the modern car which, to us, is an open invitation to trouble. We haven't progressed, as drivers, nearly as fast as the manufacturers have progressed in providing us with such magnificent machines.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

More Young People Seek State Department Careers; Credit Goes To Scott McLeod

Back in 1951, only 603 Americans took written examinations for jobs in the State Department, but in 1955, the number rose to 7,402. When I came across this comparison, it occurred to me that the Foreign Service, which had had such a bad reputation for being a refuge for men and women of queer habits and queer ideas, must have done a very thorough job of house-cleaning to make itself so attractive.

The Foreign Service has been more self-conscious than some other departments of government to rid itself of those who embarrassed their government either by their habits or their ideas. Scott McLeod, who is in charge of personnel and recruitment, has often been attacked but the justification for his work lies in the increasing popularity of State Department work as a career.

The figures indicate that young people who go in for the Foreign Service are either no longer kidded about the association or no longer mind it.

There has been too great an emphasis on scientific and engineering training for young people in this period when there is a great need for scientists and engineers. These things run in families. When I was at college long ago, law and medicine were the fashionable careers. Nowadays the young fellows go in for science and engineering of one kind or another and although the colleges make a lot of noise about the humanities, the distribution of subjects and points is such that when a young fellow has taken his majors and the supporting subjects, he has little time left for an education. He is being trained, not educated. He is being trained for a job, trained to earn a living not educated to think.

It must be a trying administrative problem in the universities to divide the time so that a scientist will also read history and philosophy and that a pre-med student will know something about government and economics and languages. It may, because of the tremendous volume of data in all scientific fields, become necessary to make the college courses five or six years instead of four, the first three years devoted to education and the last two or three to training. Maybe this is impractical and too costly, but it also would appear to be impractical to put a man through four years of mostly specialized training with only a small dose of cultural courses. The proletarianization of the college-educated citizen surely does not provide the leadership the country needs as much as it needs scientists and engineers.

The Foreign Service is recruited principally from men and women in the colleges who take cultural courses, have facility in foreign languages and who know something of history and literature. It is a fairly pleasant way of life if one likes to travel, to live in unusual places, to cultivate good taste in food and wine and a capacity to converse in a manner on a variety of topics. The temptations in such positions are greater than they used to be before espionage became an accepted process of diplomacy. But if one lives in a manner that does not lay him open to blackmail, it is not likely that the spies will get anything on him. The homosexual is always open to blackmail and has no place in government service.

Thus far, most of those in our Foreign Service or in the British, who got into trouble were homosexuals who were therefore subject to blackmail and blabber-mouths who had to talk to prove their importance. Most of them, I am told, were fired, although I should imagine that some are still around because it is impossible to get rid of those who are protected by politicians or powerful friends until they fall flat on their faces with a crash. Even so, Guy Burgess would get hanged up in a fight with his gentlemen friends and nothing happened to him until he escaped to Russia and his affairs became public property.

On the whole, the career people in our Foreign Service are now of a strictly professional type. It can remain that way only if the personnel is closely watched and I would say that the exposures by Congressional committees did a lot of good as the figures of recruitments show. It was the expansion of the department for war purposes that brought in most of the rot.

Fairly Spoken By MARGARET LATROBE

There Is Much In A Name When Buying Rail Ticket

My former boss was considered difficult to understand by everyone who knew him—but not all the time nor for the same reasons. His great love was "folks," but he had a special place in his heart for the Mayo Clinic, football players, politicians and his own employees.

And we in the latter category found it advantageous to discuss gridiron and campaign news before broaching potentially troublesome business problems.

Just to promote better understanding, as it were. Some mornings when he appeared at the office in a black mood, which was apt to communicate itself to the first person he saw, one would do well to say off-handedly, "Just had a note from an old football pal who was up at Mayo's . . ." and the day would be sunny again.

Never all himself, he considered himself a weak man's subterfuge. Yet he recognized certain general realms such as "high blood pressure" and "heart trouble" and "kidney stones" as perhaps worth treating. There were excellent hospitals in our locality; indeed every medical facility could be had much closer home than Rochester.

But up there he had a good friend on the staff, chap who once played football, had in fact made a sharp diagnosis of the then current Presidential election which everyone else missed by a kilometer. So he insisted on sending his employee—expenses paid—to the Mayo brothers, et al.

One drifter, running a rig out of Midland, Texas, had some "complaint" which had eluded the local medics—if indeed the fellow had ever consulted them. And there was some question about that, although the boss didn't know it. After hearing the drifter recount his symptoms for the third time the boss ordered him off to Mayo's by the first train.

Dressed in his best and only suit, he presented himself at the depot. "Where to, buddy?" asked the agent. "Rochester," said our man. "Rochester where?" demanded the agent. "Hell, how would I know!" quoth our man. "How many Rochesters you got?"

It seemed there were two that the agent knew of—one in Minnesota, one in New York. So our man chose New York.

When he failed to turn up at the office of the Mayo physician and one-time football player, some anxiety ensued. Days went by and still no drifter at the Clinic. Tracers were sent out, phone calls placed, trainmen along the line queried about the missing passenger.

Then in time came a postcard from our man addressed to the boss. "Dear Boss, they ain't no Mayo Clinic here but I found me a doctor and feel okay so probly be home soon good as new. Regards,

Robert S. Allen Reports

Russia Has Two-Year Lead In 'High Energy' Research

Washington, May 2 — Russian research is two-to-three years ahead of the U. S. in the supremely important field of "high energy" — the control and harnessing of the atomic power for peaceful purposes. Authority for this grave disclosure is Atomic Energy Commissioner Willard F. Libby.

A noted chemist before his AEC appointment, Dr. Libby discussed this critical situation at a private meeting with leaders of the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee. He stressed the urgent necessity of increasing funds for research in this and other vital nuclear spheres.

The Atomic Commission is asking $1,816,200,000 for the fiscal year starting July 1. This is $600,000,000 more than its current budget.

The titanic endeavor to "pacify" thermonuclear power, that gives the hydrogen bomb its cataclysmic destructiveness, is world-wide and of incalculable consequence. Scientists differ on how long it will take to achieve this epic goal. It was known Russia was exerting great efforts to do that. But their extent and effectiveness was not fully realized until Dr. Libby's frank talk.

The atomic commissioner also told the committee: A big irradiation reactor will be erected in the Middle West for research in the preservation of food and clothing. The Army Quartermaster Corps will be in charge of this project.

The new AEC budget includes $70,000,000 for continuing development of an atomic-powered plane, which has reached the point where special runways are being constructed at Area, Idaho.

A new-type power reactor is to be built for a new-type small submarine.

While the AEC's overall expenditures will be up next fiscal year, the total for construction will decrease from $322,000,000 to $295,000,000. In 1955, AEC construction came to $805,000,000 and in 1954, $1,215,000,000.

Publishable Details — Russia's lead in "high energy" research was learned at the United Nations atomic-for-peace conference in Geneva last summer.

"The first concrete inkling we got of this," Commissioner Libby explained to the Joint Committee leaders, "was at the Geneva meeting. The Russians were very quiet about this particular accelerator."

"Then the $15,000,000 you are asking for," said Rep. Chet Holifield, (D., Calif.), "is to build a ten-to-twelve billion electron-volt proton accelerator to conduct research to regain our lead in the 'high energy' field as quickly as possible."

"It is vitally important for us to do that," declared Dr. Libby. "At Geneva, we discovered the Russians are working in the energy range in which this machine would operate. We know that the most important things in nuclear physics lie in this field."

"How long will the Russians retain this lead?" asked Rep. James Van Zandt (R., Pa.). "If we get the breaks," explained Dr. Libby, "the best we can do is to cut it to two or three years. We have no doubts about this Russian lead. We have verified that. We have two smaller accelerators in operation, but nothing the size the Russians have. That's what we're asking this money for."

Questions by Rep. Holifield brought out the new information regarding the atomic-powered plane and small-type submarine. "We are building a full-scale runway for the proposed plane at the National Reactor Testing Station, Arco, Idaho," explained AEC General Manager K. E. Fields. "We have $133,000,000 already invested there, and with the $70,000,000 in this budget, that will make a total of $203,000,000."

"Is this new submarine another Nautilus?" asked Rep. Melvin Price (D., Ill.). The Nautilus was the first atomic submarine, and is already considered old-fashioned.

"No, this one will be much different," said W. Kenneth Davis, director of the AEC's Reactor Development Division. "This will be a new-type small submarine, and it will probably be constructed at Windsor, Conn."

Fields also reported that funds are included in the new budget for improving instruments on reactors to ensure greater safety.

Sparks — Rep. Leslie Areeda, Ill., Republican Whip, has written what he calls "A Congressman's Lament," which goes as follows: "Among life's dying embers, these are my regrets; when I'm right no one remembers, when I'm wrong no one forgets."

Rep. Dante Fascell (D., Fla.) has scored a significant victory in his fight to get additional VA hospitals for his state. He told the House: "A survey has just been completed that shows there is a crying need for more hospital facilities for Florida veterans. Percentage-wise, Florida is first in population growth and a great proportion of these new residents are veterans, who are entitled to adequate medical care."

Crowes See Two Chief Executives

By Jim Riley

Today's column will deal further with the world cruise taken by Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery F. Crowe, two of the better known citizens of Monroe County.

The story deals with the portion of the trip which covered the Orient, as did a recent tale about the Crowes.

Monty and Mrs. Crowe spent a short time at Manila, the Philippine Islands.

The Crowes rode in a taxi operated by a war veteran who served three years as a prisoner of the Japanese and took part in the famed "death march," shortly after their arrival in Manila.

Joe Taxi Driver was long in praise of Ramon Magsaysay, president of the Philippines, and informed the Crowes that the chief executive was the type guy who would speak to poor man and rich man without the slightest reluctance.

The driver told Monty that he would see that they met Magsaysay and quickly drove the pair to touring Monroe Countians to the executive offices.

Crowe was ushered into the capital and into the office of the president. But, Monty was informed that Magsaysay was currently attending a wake for Manuel Quezon, former president of the islands.

Quezon had died only a short time before the Crowes arrived in the Philippines and was now lying in state.

Word was sent to Magsaysay that the Crowes were present, but due to the importance of the occasion, the Philippine president could do nothing more than wave to the American visitors.

The Crowes were forced in line to visit the remains of Quezon and after a long wait paid their respects to the former president.

They came to see the active president, but had to settle with a view of the former chief executive.

Monty was particularly impressed with the manner in which the United States has introduced education to the islands. Grade school, high school and college educations have been carefully planned and improved down through the years.

Crowe said that the job of improving the Philippines was like night and day when compared with the situation in India. The traveling East Stroudsburg businessman was greatly impressed with his visit to the islands ruled over by Magsaysay.

Pen Argyl High School Girls' Trio Wins Superior Rating For Third Straight Year

PEN ARGYL — The girls' trio of Pen Argyl Area Joint High School, composed of Joanne Harrier, soprano, Priscilla Sandt, second soprano, and Ann Lugg, alto, have again won a superior rating in the Pennsylvania Music and Forensic League State contest which was held at Pittsburgh last Friday. This is the third year in which they have won the highest rating, having done so at Williamsport in 1954 and in York in 1955. They are members of the Mixed Chorus of the High School under the direction of Mrs. Warren Kress.

The girls were members of the Eastern District Chorus, which is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Music Educators, last year at Parkland and this year at Pine Grove. Miss Harrier has also been chosen to represent the school at the State Chorus this year which will be held May 10, 11, and 12 at Huntingdon.

Perhaps the highest honor that has come to the girls was their selection as members of the Golden Anniversary Chorus which was held as part of the National Music Educators Conference in St. Louis, Missouri, from April 13 to 17. Pennsylvania's quota was 50 high school students of which 12 were girls and eight were boys. They flew from Idlewild Airport on April 12, accompanied by Mrs. Kress, who is a member of the National Music Educators, and Mrs. Robert Harrier. They were members of the chorus which was composed of more than 500 girls and boys from 46 states.

The girls also sing in the Musical Arts Chorus of the Easton YMCA, under the direction of Mr. John Raymond, Music Director of Lafayette College. They will be featured on the Spring Concert of this organization, which will be held in the Phillipsburg, N.J. High School on May 21.

Nautilus Encounters Fishing Boat

GROTON, Conn., May 2 (P) — The Nautilus, world's first atomic submarine, had an undersea encounter with a fishing boat which has resulted in a $1,300 claim against the Navy, the submarine base here said today.

The incident occurred off the New Jersey coast April 22 while the Nautilus was cruising submerged on a voyage from Key West, Fla., to her base here. The top gear of the submarine hooked into the fishing boat's net, ripping and dragging it until the cable attaching the net to the boat broke.

The skipper of the fishing boat has filed a damage claim.

No Danger
A submarine base spokesman said the fishing boat itself was in no danger at any time.

The only damage to the Nautilus was a broken running light.

The fishing vessel was the 61-foot trawler Jennie, which operates out of Point Pleasant Beach, N.J.

Stock Market Operates In Low Session

NEW YORK, May 2 (P) — The stock market went through an irregularly lower session today with-out much emphasis.

There was little uniformity in the action of the major divisions. It was a market of stocks acting on their own.

Gains and losses spread over a range of around 3 points either way with the stress on lower prices.

Aircraft were strong most of the day and closed comfortably higher. They had help from defense news out of Washington. Coppers and many oils also were higher.

Lower

Aluminum issues were lower as were key radio-TV stocks. The steels, motors, and railroads were mixed. Utilities edged up as a group.

Today's market fits in with the patterns of many recent markets since a record high was touched by the averages last April 6. Brokers consider the whole thing a consolidation of the steep rise that started in mid-February and topped out early in April.

The Associated Press average of 49 stocks today lost 30 cents at $190.00. It was down 80 cents yesterday. The average currently is only $1.50 away from the April 6 peak.

Components in the average were mixed—industrials down 80 cents, rails off 10 cents, utilities up 20 cents.

The mixed nature was further illustrated by the fact that more stocks were up than down — 495 higher and 450 lower out of the 1,187 individual issues traded. Sixty-five issues touched new highs for the year, and 48 established new lows.

Volume came to 2,440,000 shares as compared with 2,500,000 shares traded yesterday.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed on volume of 1,100,000 shares as compared with 1,080,000 shares yesterday.

Corporate bonds were higher while U. S. governments made moderate progress.

U. S. farmer cooperatives have 7,600,000 members.

Barbara Anton

Pocono Pines Represented On Broadway

POCONO PINES has its own link with the professional stage just now in the star of the off-Broadway satire, "Desire on a Hot Tin Street."

The press release lists the star, Barbara Anton, as the former Barbara Miller of Pocono Pines.

In this satire of Tennessee Williams' plays, the sexes have been switched and Barbara is appearing in the role that made Marlon Brando famous. For her portrayal of the snarling, uncouth wife, she has received lavish praise, and the role marks still another change for the versatile young actress.

In the past year she was cast as Sabrina in "Sabrina Fair," as Ginger in "No Time for Ginger" and as Myrtle in Noel Coward's "Sail Life."

Daughter

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller of Pocono Pines, and a granddaughter of Mrs. Mary Miller who is making her home with her daughter Mrs. Walter Hoffman, Ann St., Stroudsburg.

Barbara studied dramatics at Columbia University before taking on this current starring role in which she toured the South this winter. She is married and her husband, Al Anton, also played in "Desire" when it toured the South. Currently Barbara is rehearsing

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, it makes the grass grow — but that's one thing we aren't concerned about right now since the grass is getting ahead of the mowers anyway. Any other use for these rainy days isn't immediately apparent. Besides, after last August, a lot of people are allergic to the sound of rain on the roof, and it's anything but soothing.

About the only people who might be pleased are the women who got new bright raincoats with matching umbrellas, and they're so pretty they don't want to get them wet.

Fortunately, there's enough indoor activities scheduled to keep everybody out of mischief this week. Found a new parlor game, myself, last night just for my spare time — and that was trying to trace down the young actress now appearing in "Desire on a Hot Tin Streetcar" in New York.

The only information the story gave was that she was the former Barbara Miller of Pocono Pines. There are a lot of Millers in Pocono Pines, and the ones who were home all had very pleasant voices and helpful dispositions — but none of them had a daughter, Barbara.

Several told me that the Walter Millers had a pretty daughter, Barbara, they thought might be the one, but the Walter Millers weren't home up till time for the social page to go beddy-bye. So if I find out, you'll have to find

Shultz Will Head PTA Of Chestnuthill

Brodheadsville — Theodore Shultz was elected president of the Chestnuthill Parent-Teachers Association at the regular meeting held at the school with the retiring president, Chester Stanowski presiding. Other officers elected included Gordon Shupp, vice president; Grace Slinger, secretary; and William Kresge, treasurer.

During the business meeting plans were completed for the Sixth Grade trip to Philadelphia with Mrs. Grace Thompson, teacher, and parent chaperones. Mrs. Vianello, PTA Band Parent committee chairman, announced the chorus and band concert for May 4, and further plans were announced for the PTA Library established in the school for the use of West End Adults. Mrs. Thompson, chairman, announced that more new books would soon be available.

Miss Elizabeth Martin, probation officer of Monroe County, spoke on juvenile problems. A special program featured the Girl Scouts of Chestnuthill with a flag salute by Brenda Mackes, Pauline Artz and Marilyn Getz, accompanied by Mrs. Clair Rader. Darlene Frable played an accordion solo.

Mrs. H. Kulp Heads Gap PTA Unit

Del. Water Gap — The last business meeting of the Water Gap P.T.A., for the year, was held Monday night in the school house with Delbert Davis presiding. Mrs. Henry Kulp opened the meeting with prayer. Mrs. Ben Geshinsky the secretary's report; and Mrs. John Sutton read the treasurer's report for Mrs. Wm. Widows.

It was decided that the PTA would honor the class which goes from this school to the Stroudsburg school next fall; the decision was left to Mrs. Lillian Marshall and Mrs. Alys Morton. The group also voted to give the monies in the treasury at the close of school, to purchase library books.

Mrs. Jean Davis and Mrs. John Sutton were appointed to represent the local group at the conference to be held in Wilkes Barre all day May 5. Effort is being made to secure two others to accompany them. A vote of thanks was given to the retiring officers — Delbert Davis, Mrs. Ben Geshinsky, Mrs. Wm. Widows — and to Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Morton, the program committee. Mrs. Willard Jennings reported for the nominating committee; and all names proposed were voted into office giving the PTA for the next year: Mrs. Henry Kulp as president; Mrs. John Chamberlain, vice president; Mrs. John Sutton, treasurer; Mrs. Stanley Siproth, secretary.

After adjournment of the business meeting, Miss Nellie Burd arranged an informal program to fill in for the scheduled speaker was ill. Miss Burd placed the members in two groups with Mrs. Siproth as chairman of one; Mrs. Kulp, of the other. Each group was given a list of the speakers and their subjects for the meetings of the past year and some questions as to the value received. Both groups returned a careful summary. Both felt that several speakers should appear a year from now when new parents had entered the PTA group. All agreed that three subjects should be heard again next winter. They were "Remedial Reading or Reading Readiness" by Mrs. Lydia Strait; "Personality Development in Adolescents" by Robert Hawk; and a report on plans and problems of Stroud Union School District, such as given by Earl Groner. The groups also recommended that the children be included in one meeting, suggesting the Christmas party as the time. All felt that a determined effort must be made next fall to make all Water Gap citizens, whether or not they are parents, realize how important it is for them to take an interest in PTA and attend the meetings.

After the buzz session, Mrs. A. D. Davis and her committee served cake and coffee from a table that carried out the spring motif in blues and yellows.

150 At Presbyterian County Rally

Delaware Water Gap — The fourth annual county meeting of the Presbyterian women, held in the Presbyterian Church at Delaware Water Gap brought together 150 women from the Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Middle Smithfield, Shawnee-on-Delaware and Water Gap churches. Mrs. Paul Maxwell, of Delaware Water Gap, was at the organ and gave the organ prelude, weaving in selections from masterpieces. Mrs. David Newquest, of Shawnee-on-Delaware, was in charge of the meditation. She called for all to stand in silent prayer followed by her petition for recovery for Mrs. Luther Markin, wife of the host church pastor.

Mrs. Francis Drake, president of the Water Gap Auxiliary, greeted the assembly. The devotions subject was "Rejoicing in Hope." Mrs. Omar Michael read Phillip's translation of Romans 5. Mrs. Newquest spoke of the effect of hope. Mrs. John Baymor, of Middle Smithfield, sang "The Lord's Prayer." The Middle Smithfield group led the hymn singing.

Mrs. Claude W. Leister, of the Stroudsburg Church, Lehigh Secretary of Foreign Missions, introduced the guest speaker, Miss Dorothy Foster, of the National Department of Women's Work, a world traveler. Miss Foster's topic was "Our united hearts" and when she told what "sharing hearts" can do, she told of her own life as one of six children of a southern Negro cotton farmer. With no schools provided for Negroes, she went to a mission day school. When cotton crops failed, the gifts of Presbyterian women gave her a scholarship in Boggs Academy. That did not mean receiving money; but receiving the chance to earn her education. She knelt down until midnight for the breakfast, or got up at 4 a. m. to scrub four long halls and stairways and report to classes at 7:30. She also told of accompanying a mission nurse out west to an Indian hogan where a baby was born at 2 a. m. With the mother lying on the dirt floor and only a faded blue blouse to wrap about the child, it brought tears of joy and pride when the nurse robed the little one in a layette made by Presbyterian women.

Mrs. Walter Schlough, of East Stroudsburg church and Mrs. Gordon Coy of Stroudsburg church, received the offering and Mrs. Robert Reeves of the Shawnee-on-Delaware Church gave the offering prayer. A letter just received from Mrs. Alma (Gale) Wright, of Ponte Novo, Brazil, was read by Miss Nellie Burd. She gave news of the birth of their third child, Sonia Joy, in March and asked for any discarded caps and gowns that their school graduates could wear on commencement days.

Mrs. Abram Kulp, of the Shawnee-on-Delaware Church, had the closing prayer. A social hour followed in the Sunday School room where two tables, festive with silver appointments, tall tapers and fortythia, were presided over by Mrs. H. W. Brodhead, Mrs. Wm. Giebe, Mrs. Guyton Kemper and Mrs. George Hauser. Unable to be present that night, Mrs. Henry Kulp had served as chairman of the hospitality committee; and all members of the host auxiliary had sent in the sandwiches served. Other helpers in the kitchen were Mrs. John Wilson Jr., Mrs. H. J. LaBar, Mrs. Elam Gray, Mrs. Clifford Hauser. The presidents of the auxiliaries are Mrs. Francis B. Drake, Mrs. John Baymor, Mrs. Robert Reeves, Mrs. Gordon Coy and Mrs. Albert Sommer. Next May the host church will be the Shawnee-on-Delaware Presbyterian.

From California has come a new line of table ware which is charming and which will probably be a favorite wedding and shower gift for this year's brides. We might also suggest it as a Mother's Day gift. It is a dull chocolate brown, with a bird figure used in some way as the silhouette of the dish itself or as a portion of the dish. Rose and blue flowers and dashes of black are used as color accents.

But it's that bird that intrigues me. It's a bird all right... but WHAT kind? Hannah Shupp isn't sure... and Shirley Williams has a bright idea, which is clever but hardly one to be passed along in a newspaper column. The nearest I can do is to call this whatit a dove... the little brown dove so romantically remembered from the old songs... or maybe it's just a pigeon... a HOMING pigeon, of course, since it would be used a great deal right around home.

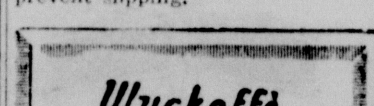

The ware itself gives the impression of being very heavy. Actually it is not nearly so bulky or weighty as its color suggests. The Lazy Susan is a very good example of this—it looms large, but when you pick it up it is surprisingly light. The revolving wooden platform beneath is painted a cheerful rosy red. There is a large pitcher with the bird's head as the pouring spout at 5.00; a salad or spaghetti bowl at 3.98 with side dishes to be purchased individually; at 2.50 there's an adorable bird-shaped mustard or mayonnaise set, and large salt and pepper birds are 2.98 a set.

One thing is certain, the bird is NOT a robin... a peacock... a penguin... an ostrich, or a flamingo. Even I know those when I see them. It isn't a duck either... but these are ducky all right, and it's a silly goose who won't consider them as a potential purchase. I swan, they're cute!

Since we seem to be concentrating on table talk this morning, let me tell you about some of the beautiful things I discovered in Hattie Walter's domestic department. There was a day when "the music went 'round and 'round.'" Now Quaker Lace does too... it comes not only in the most beautiful "rounds" we've ever seen, but in oval too—and it has a dozen uses. The rounds range in size from 6 to 18 inches, at a price from 59c to 1.98; the ovals are 1.49. Use them under lamps, center pieces, on vanity tables, under bouquets and plants, or even as place mats on the dining table. The size just right for under a dinner plate would cost 1.19.

Quaker Lace also manufactures an eight piece table set of four gorgeous mats with lace-edged linen napkins at 10.95, and another of a "meshier" type lace at 6.95. The latter comes in champagne, gold, silver, or pink. Either would be beautiful on an informal wedding or Mother's Day table.

Want your pet to put on the dog? Just buy him his own 36" square Terry towel with the figure of a dog—boxer, cocker, etc.—at the very center. The price is 2.98, and I'm very happy someone explained to me that these are for PETS... At first sight I'd thought we were in for something new in bathroom accessories... Kitchen towels of a particularly timely nature are on display too, with kitten faces playing out. One has a pussy willow decoration among the twigs; another has a puppy along with dogwood. Price of each is 1.00... But to get back to the table (a habit I have that's all too frequent!) you now can make your meals truly cosmopolitan with place mats illustrated by highly colored, lustrous Parisian scenes. At 79c each you can have the Moulin Rouge, the Left Bank of the Seine, or Montmartre. Make your table arrangement an Arc de Triomphe. These are real corks too—cock backed, we mean, to prevent slipping.

Ann Street Battle Enters New Phase

constitutes an unnecessary hazard.

4.—Trucks are compelled upon streets which are not intended for modern commercial traffic.

5.—Enforcement of this diversion subjects commercial vehicles to damage due to the inadequate construction of these streets. It also creates an unnecessary hazard to public safety, both of a property and personal nature. This hazard would be non-existent if commercial vehicles were permitted to travel on Routes 209 and 611 within the borough.

The complaint notes that about 100 Ann St. residents have protested to the borough council that constant travel of heavy trucks over pock-marked Ann St. sets up vibrations that have caused buildings to be damaged and walls to crack. Lawns and sidewalks also have been damaged and the noise disturbs sleep and is "generally injurious to health."

6.—No official signs giving notice of the burgess' action have been posted conspicuously on any of the streets, in violation of state law.

Avers

"The plaintiff avers that if the defendant is not restrained from continuing to carry into effect and enforce his unlawful act," the complaint contends, "immediate and irreparable loss and damage will result to him before the matter can be heard on motion."

Therefore, the plaintiff requested that a decree be entered that the mayor's action in declaring an emergency or in diverting traffic from Routes 611 and 209 within the borough is illegal and null and void.

Moreover, Tarr petitioned the court that process shall be issued against the defendant, requiring him to appear in court to answer to the complaint and that he abide by the court's decree.

The plaintiff also urged that a preliminary injunction be issued until hearing — and a permanent one thereafter — which will restrain Harris from further carrying into effect the alleged unlawful declaration of an existing emergency, and the diversion of commercial traffic from Routes 611 and 209.

Moreover, the court is petitioned that Harris be restrained from placing police officers at Main and Ninth Sts., and at Seventh and Ann Sts., for the purpose of "carrying into effect said defendant's unlawful declaration and actions."

Harris is directed in the complaint to answer to the complaint within 20 days.

J. Joseph McCluskey, attorney for the plaintiff, also pointed out that Sect. 3 of Borough Ordinance 195, enacted by Council on May 7, 1929, provides that the police department under the direction of the burgess shall manage and direct vehicular traffic. That ordinance further provides:

"Whenever the burgess and the police committee shall deem it advisable or necessary for the public safety or convenience to close any street, alley or parts of streets to vehicular traffic or to vehicles of certain description or to divert the traffic thereon, or to divert or divert the course of pedestrian travel over any street or intersection, or to limit, regulate or prohibit the stopping or parking of vehicles along such portions of the public highways of the Borough of Stroudsburg as may require on account of traffic congestion, the burgess with the assent of the police committee shall notify the police department to give notice to the public of such regulation, restriction or prohibition by causing suitable signs erected either prohibiting parking or limiting the same to a certain time or to certain hours or uses; providing however that no general change in parking regulations except of a temporary or emergency character shall be put into effect until after 10 days printed notice there-

Kiwanis Club Lists Names Of Delegates

REPORTS ON the progress being made for the production of "Brigadoon" by the Community Chorus Friday and Saturday nights of this week at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College were featured at the meeting of Stroudsburg Kiwanis club at the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday.

She gave a visual demonstration of combining different colors by tracing the origin of color combinations of the Egyptians.

Sir Isaac Newton was pictured as first to discover basic colors by throwing light to a producer. She brought out how colors are used in industry, business and homes. The speaker was presented with a certificate of appreciation by Wells on behalf of the club.

Highlight

A highlight of the meeting was of shall have been given by the burgess.

Attention

The complaint also calls attention to Public Law 1242 of June 1, 1945, which reads:

"Except in the case of emergencies wherein the safety of the public would be endangered, no state highway shall be closed to vehicular traffic, except upon order of the department nor for longer a period than is necessary for the purpose for which such order is issued."

"No public road or highway shall be closed to vehicular traffic when the same has been designated as a detour by the department, unless the written consent of the department has first been outlined, or unless the authorities having jurisdiction over said road or highways shall, by resolution duly recorded in their minutes, declare such closing necessary for the protection of the public safety."

"When any borough, town or city street, which forms a part or section of a state highway is closed to vehicular traffic, the borough, town or city shall at once notify the department of the creation of a detour, as hereafter provided, and when such detour is removed, the department shall also be notified at once of the removal."

Outstanding Field Scheduled To Compete In Eighth Annual Shawnee Invitation Swim Meet

SHAWNEE-ON-DELAWARE, May 2 (AP)—The eighth annual Shawnee Invitation swimming meet will be held at Shawnee Inn and Country Club here on Sunday, June 17. It was announced by Tommy Cullen, manager of the Country Club.

One of the country's outstanding aquatic events the meet will feature the top swimmers from the New York-New Jersey Metropolitan District; the Middle Atlantic District and the South Atlantic District of the AAU.

Both men's and women's teams representing the above districts will be selected by coaches who have been invited to participate in the annual meet.

The first two coaches to accept invitations are Ray Dain, of the Germantown YMCA, Philadelphia, who will select the Middle Atlantic District women's team, and John DiBarbado, York YMCA, York, Pa., who will select and coach the Middle Atlantic men's team.

There will be a program of nine events for each of the men's and women's competitions with gold, silver and bronze medals being awarded in each race. The winning coaches will receive trophies.

As in past years, this year's meet is certain to include a number of national champions and world's record holders. Because of the nation-wide interest the Shawnee meet attracts in AAU circles a much stronger field is anticipated for this Olympic year with many of the contestants eyeing places on the U.S. Olympic team.

NCAA Slaps Auburn With Suspension

NEW ORLEANS, May 2 (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn's Council today placed Auburn on probation for three years and warned the school that any infractions during the period may lead to expulsion from the NCAA.

Auburn's probation period was the longest ever handed down by the NCAA. One other Southeastern Conference school, the University of Florida, and the University of Louisville also were placed on probation. Their probation periods are for two years.

The probation periods are effective immediately.

The penalty against Auburn was far more severe.

For the first two years, the Alabama school's athletes are barred from those selected invitational events which cooperate with the NCAA in the administration of its enforcement program. The events include post-season bowl games and all NCAA events.

The school's football team was made ineligible also for participation in the national television series administered by the NCAA.

The University of Louisville's basketball team was ruled ineligible for participation in a selected group of invitational meets which cooperate with the NCAA. Those tournaments include the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City, Okla., the Holiday Festival at New York, the National Invitational Tournament and the Sugar and Cotton Bowl Tournaments.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said the Auburn rule infractions occurred in football, while Louisville's infractions came in basketball. Florida's violation apparently occurred in all sports.

Byers said.

The NCAA's action on Auburn supported rulings earlier this year by the Southeastern Conference.

The Council said it found that a staff member of the university, assistant football coach Hal Herring, during Nov. 1955, offered financial aid to two prospective student-athletes in excess of that permitted by the NCAA and the southeastern Conference.

The boys involved were Harry and Robert Beube, Alabama City, Ala., twins.

Cliff Hazan, former Kentucky All-American, from the Boston Celtics was announced today by the rookie-collecting St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Assn.

The Green Thumb

Care Needed In Planting Trees, Shrubs; Lawn Spots Should Be Seeded At Once

IT SEEMS ALMOST elementary to tell how to plant trees and shrubs, yet it's an old fact that these are planted wrong in many cases. A common mistake is to dig the hole too small. The first rule is to dig the hole big enough. If you're planting evergreens, the diameter of the hole should be about 18 inches wider than the diameter of the ball of earth with it. Trees and shrubs moved bare-rooted should be put into a hole that is somewhat wider than the span of the roots. Spread the roots outward, never allowing them to grow inward. Many trees have been strangled to death by their own roots, due to careless twisting of roots at planting time.

If your soil is full of clay, loosen it up with peatmoss, compost, sawdust, well-rotted manure, using up to 50 per cent by volume. This helps the roots breathe, prevents water from puddling. Without good drainage the trees or shrubs may drown out.

Bare Spots

If you happen to have some bare spots in the lawn it's a good idea to get some grass started before weeds creep in and take a hold. Loosen up the bare spots, reseed (after scattering a little plant food in the soil) and then cover the seed lightly with soil. Crabgrass sneaks in bare spots so try to get a catch of grass before crabgrass weather rolls around.

Three chemicals to keep in mind for control of crabgrass are: disodium methyl arsonate, potassium cyanate and phenyl mercuric acetate. A good thick turf of Kentucky bluegrass will shade out the crabgrass seedlings and you won't need chemical weedkillers for this weed.

Hydrangea Notes

If you received a hydrangea plant for Easter chances are you can get more mileage from it by proper care. Give it lots of water, a bright window and a little feeding. After the plant finishes blooming, the tops can be pruned back to 2 to 4 inches, then repotted in a soil that's rich (garden loam, sand and peatmoss makes a fine mixture). Next month, plunge the plant, pot and all, in a semi-shady spot in the garden. Leave there all summer. In September, bring the plant indoors and keep in a cool place, with some watering.

If you want the plant to flower outdoors, it will need special handling as low temperatures will freeze the flower buds. Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope for our bulletin which tells all about caring for hydrangeas indoors and out.

'A LIVING TOWN'

ONCE AGAIN, the town of Dover, Del., is throwing open its doors to the colonial spirit of early America. The observance, known as "Old Dover Days," offers an open-house tour of more than 30 historic homes, gardens and buildings to visitors from near and far. Homes built as early as 1728 display priceless antiques and hostesses and town criers in colonial attire help to recreate the past. Celebration will be held May 5-6 in this "living town created by order of William Penn, 1683."

Built in 1790, "Woodburn" is home of Thomas Murray. It has fine original paneling.

Trees in this lovely garden of Ridgley House (1728) are more than 200 years old.

Horse and buggy with townspeople pull up in front of the Old State House (1722).

High school girls perform the traditional Maypole dance before Old State House.

Barkley Artist In Telling Stories At Right Moment

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Alben Barkley was a hard man to commit to paper.

Many a reporter, including this one, has laughed uproariously at a Barkley story, checked all the way to his typewriter, sat down confidently to bat out a batch of hilarious prose—and 30 minutes later given up in despair.

For the truth is, a Barkley story without Barkley doesn't amount to much. Many an unemployed gag writer could do better.

But, in his own way, Barkley was an artist.

For one thing, and this is important, he knew when a story should be told. He especially liked to sneak one in when senatorial tempers were rising. This not only eased the tension, but, because of its environment, made the story seem funnier than it was.

Then, too, Barkley savored his own stories. Like a good cook, he tasted the stew as he went along, rolling the ingredients lovingly on his tongue, salting and peppering to taste. His nearsighted eyes sparkled as he approached the tag line.

Infectious

Enjoyment is infectious. Even a political enemy couldn't entirely escape the contagion of Barkley's merriment.

So future historians, digging through the records of the man who died yesterday in Lexington, Va., may be hard pressed to visualize and appreciate this man who, since 1913, had been representative, senator, vice president and then senator again.

Though his comments lose much of their freshness in print, some of Barkley's gaiety comes through. Go back to 1935, Depression days. Here were Sen. Huey Long (D-La.) and Sen. Kenneth McKellar (D-Tenn.) busily trading verbal insults.

At one point the galleries laughed. A rap for order.

Up got the old tension eater, Alben Barkley. "I appeal to the chair not to be too harsh with the occupants of the galleries," he said. "When people go to the circus they ought to be allowed to laugh at the monkey."

Come to think of it, this may be one reason why reporters were so fond of Barkley.

Probably no man surpassed Barkley in his respect for the Democratic process, but he never—well, hardly ever—got maudlin about its elected practitioners.

During a debate last month Barkley happily pointed out the Senate isn't always bursting with electrical excitement.

"If it were not for the intellectual friction which is created by debate on fundamental details," Barkley said, "this body would be even duller than it is."

With Barkley gone, it will be duller than ever.

A date palm comes to full bearing at about 20 years of age and ceases to be important as a fruit producer after about 60 years of life.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

November 24 to December 23 (Sagittarius): Jupiter, magnanimous, warns against careless spending, lightly made promises, assuming debts. Day can produce gains, lead to beneficial connections for later advancement, however.

December 24 to January 23 (Capricorn): You'll need your know-how and ingenuity to get things done as you wish. The day has some restrictions but don't let them upset the challenge and beat it.

Subject Of Bean Soup Becomes Important Enough To Cause Controversy On Capital Hill

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP) — A new controversy raged today on Capitol Hill. It's over bean soup.

In most areas of this great nation the bean soup debate is relatively quiet. Citizens can take the stuff or leave it alone.

They can also do that in the Capitol restaurants, the feeding grounds for senators, representatives and their hired help. But there's this difference: Here bean soup is on the menu every blessed day.

Legend
According to legend, the custom began in the House restaurant in 1904. John Joseph Gurney Cannon of Illinois, who during his 46 years in Congress became much better known as "Uncle Joe," loved his bean soup. As speaker, he also had power.

So when Bean soup was left off the menu, Uncle Joe bellowed "Thunderation!" and off he scurried to ram through a resolution calling for bean soup, every day.

State Highway Makes Switch

Same Salary
The new appointments do not change the present salary status of the two engineers.

Same thing happened in the Senate. Only here the bean benefactor was Sen. Fred Thomas, Democrat, Idaho. Today began his political life as a Republican, but when the GOP went to the single gold standard, the silver-loving Dubois defected to the Democrats.

But to bean soup he remained ever faithful. In 1907, he persuaded the Senate Rules Committee to call for bean soup as a permanent fixture.

And there it has been, ever since. It was surprising to see it attacked in Roll Call, a sort of family type newspaper published every two weeks for the people who work in the world's greatest law-making factory.

In a letter to the editor, George L. Berg Jr., secretary for Robert J. Corbett (R-Pa.), struck out at this "unhappy, nauseating, traditional bean soup."

Something Big
But Berg realized he was bit-

ting at something big, much bigger than he is. So he said he supposed he wouldn't see the appearance of this disgusting, degrading bean soup, as long as Methuselah.

Bean soup lovers naturally were horrified. Tomorrow's issue of Roll Call will have several violent replies, including one from Jack Anderson, who works for Rep. Jack Westland (R-Wash.).

"It was with consternation, a profound sense of shock approaching disbelief that I read the scurrilous, unwarranted, unfair and uninspired attack," Anderson wrote.

"This, sir, is no ordinary bean soup. This is Mandatory bean soup, the only bean soup in the land that has behind it Ft. Knox, the combined might of the government of these United States." There the matter rested, the pro- and con-arguments against the anti- and Congressional bean soup.

Bean soup was on the menu again today.
